

GBREB Foundation Scholarship Application: Support Info

Need for Outside Scholarships:

Outside scholarships are private sources of financial aid that require an application separate from financial aid application(s). National and local scholarships are offered by national corporations, local businesses, community-based organizations, and private foundations. Money awarded through an outside scholarship is an excellent supplemental source of aid that can reduce any unmet need that a colleges' financial aid award offer may not cover.

Best Practices for Getting Students to Apply:

Application will only be available online, please direct individuals who are interested to this link: www.uaspire.submittable.com

- Distribute flyer to high school guidance counselor offices or college placement offices.
- Distribute flyers to after school programs and community based organizations such as the Boys and Girls Club or a town rec center to the link.
- Partner with college access and success programs such as uAspire, College Advising Corps, Bottom Line, GEAR UP, etc., in order to encourage their students to apply.
- Distribute flyers at the local library.
- Post the link to the application on websites for students:

"A couple years ago, I won the GBREB Scholarship through uAspire, for which I am incredibly grateful, of course, as I am more or less alone at this moment in time as a 20 year old with limited funds to fend for myself financially to attend college. Thank you so very much! – V.O. Previous GBREB Recipient
